

Assistive Devices, Services and Alternate Service Methods

Use of Personal Assistive Devices

Siskinds allows people with disabilities to use their personal assistive devices to access our legal services. Any Siskinds' representative will consult with the Human Resource Manager when uncertain about the use of an assistive device.

Inventory of Assistive Devices, Assistive Services & Alternate Service Methods

At present, Siskinds does not have any assistive devices available; however, assistive services and/or alternate service methods will be provided by Siskinds in consultation with the person with a disability wherever possible; i.e., assisting the person in completing a transaction.

Providing Access to Assistive Devices, Assistive Services & Alternate Service Methods

All persons who deal with members of the public on behalf of Siskinds will be trained on how to use equipment or assistive devices available, if applicable, that may help with the provision of our legal services to people with disabilities.

If available, assistive devices, assistive services or alternate service methods will be offered to persons with disabilities, if it is readily apparent that such person would benefit from such assistive device or service, or the alternate service method is needed as an alternative to the person's personal assistive device.
