About

Alexandra is an associate lawyer in the class actions department working out of the Toronto office. She clerked at the Federal Court of Canada with the Associate Judges (formerly Prothonotaries) of the Court. Her previous experience at a plaintiff-side class actions firm focused on a range of litigation areas, including consumer protection, competition, and securities class actions.

She obtained her J.D. from Osgoode Hall Law School in 2023, where she was involved in the Osgoode Hall Law Journal as an Associate and Senior Editor and served as the Managing Editor in her final year. She was a Dean's Fellow for Public and Constitutional Law and was a student in Osgoode's mediation and feminist advocacy clinics. During her studies, Alexandra worked with Aboriginal Legal Services' Giiwedini Anang Council, the Barbra Schlifer Clinic, and was a Fellow of the Ontario Justice Education Network. She was the 2021 winner of the Canadian Bar Association's Writing Them In essay contest and was the recipient of the 2023 Aird & Berlis LLP and Women's Law Association of Ontario Equality Award. Prior to law school, Alexandra had a career in education and nonprofit communications that sparked her interest in the law and the power of effective advocacy.
