About

Angela is a senior legal support staff member in the immigration law group. She has over 19 years of experience in the immigration field, and is currently working under supervision of the immigration lawyer Elena Ashford. Working in the area of Canadian immigration law, Angela offers assistance in the preparation and filing of various types of applications including permanent residence, work permits, study permits, visitor visas, citizenship applications and more. As a member of our immigration team, she often deals with complex immigration matters and strives to find the most effective solutions suitable to our clients. Angela takes great pride in her work helping clients to reach their personal and business immigration needs.
