PROFILE

Barbara Ann practices at our affiliate office Siskinds, Desmeules in Quebec City.

Barbara Ann graduated from the faculty of law of the Laval University where she obtained an LL. B. in 2008. During her studies, she completed an internship at the Quebec Superior Court. She was called to the Quebec Bar in 2010.

Barbara Ann also has a bachelor in microbiology from the faculty of science of the Laval University (B.Sc.). This science background gives her an edge in cases involving scientific content, whether in the medical or environmental field.

She practices primarily in the areas of class actions and professional negligence.

Barbara Ann was part of a team representing plaintiffs in a major environmental law class action.

Before she started to practice law, Barbara Ann worked for over 15 years as business manager. That experience provided her a better understanding of the commercial sector.
