About

Brendan specializes in corporate and commercial law, providing assistance to businesses at all stages. His practice focuses on incorporation, corporate structuring and reorganization, business succession, mergers and acquisitions, financing, and the preparation of various corporate and commercial contracts. Brendan is dedicated to adding value to businesses by identifying legal solutions that match the business realities of each client.

Brendan obtained his J.D. from Western University's Faculty of Law, where he completed the Area of Concentration in Business Law and received several awards for academic performance. Prior to joining Siskinds' business law group, Brendan worked for the firm as both a summer law student and articling student.

When he's not at the office, Brendan keeps busy with his young family of five. He also enjoys golfing and spending time outdoors, and is passionate about helping children in our community.
