About

Ellen is an associate lawyer practising in the class actions department. Based in the Toronto office, her practice is focused on representing plaintiffs in medical and product liability, securities, and consumer protection litigation. Prior to joining as an associate in 2024, she worked as a summer and articling student with the firm.

Ellen graduated from Western University, Faculty of Law in 2023. She was an active member of the Western community during her time in law school, where she volunteered with Pro Bono Student’s Canada’s Project Consent initiative and worked as a Research Assistant with a focus on Indigenous law and Indigenous self-governance. Ellen also completed a semester abroad in Norway during her final year of law school. Prior to attending law school, Ellen received her Bachelor of Commerce degree from the University of Ottawa. During her studies, she worked in a variety of industries, including financial services, marketing and advertising, and healthcare.

Outside of her legal practice, Ellen enjoys travelling, discovering new music, playing golf, and catching the latest Wes Anderson film.
