About

Sarah joined Siskinds as an associate in 2023, after summering and articling with the firm. Based in our London office, her practice is focused on plaintiff-side litigation, including tort and accident benefit claims.

Prior to law school, Sarah obtained her Bachelor of Social Science in History from Western University where she graduated as the gold medalist. Sarah further completed a Master of Arts in History at Western University studying under a SSHRC grant.

While attending law school at Western University, Sarah contributed to student publications, completed research pursuant to a Mitacs grant, and attended the Canadian Law Student Conference in 2021.

As a lifetime Londoner born and raised in the city, Sarah enjoys spending time at the Covent Garden Market, going to London Knights games, and supporting her local community.
